Report on Town History.

Considering the time we have been able to devote, a fair amount of progress has been made on the history. Much of the work is ready for the press. We have much to report, and would be glad to give it here, but are aware that it would be less satisfactory than a personal examination of the work, or even a verbal report of the same, either of which we shall be more than pleased to grant at any time.

Report of School Board.

The School Board would respectfully submit the following report of the condition of schools the past year :

We are pleased to report a year's successful school work. There has seemed to be an almost entire unity of feeling between teacher and pupil, parents and school board, without which the best results are unattainable; and this absence of friction has been an important element in promoting the success which has characterized the year's school work. Parents seem to be taking a deeper interest in the schools, visiting them more frequently, consulting and encouraging the teacher and in various ways showing a greater desire to keep in touch with the work, and give their aid and sympathy. This is as it should be; neither the labor of the teacher, nor efforts of the school board can accomplish more than the parents can do; and it is only by united efforts that the best results can be achieved.

Teachers are scarce and in a few instances we have been unable to secure the services of a suitable teacher and have the school commence on time, but have succeeded with but slight delay. Without exception all our teachers have labored faithfully and the results have been seen in the thorough work shown in the closing examinations. There has been a tendency by a few to keep pupils at home considerably, either thoughtlessly or for their labor, which is very injurious to the school entire, as well as to the particular pupil. Classes are broken up or kept back in their studies to accommodate these absent ones. We would that teachers could tell to you all the story of the annoyance to which they are subjected by absences, and the extent to which the efficiency of their work is impaired, when pupils are irregular in their attendance.

Consolidation of schools is popular with none having children of school age, and we have done nothing in that line except in a few extreme cases where pupils enough to form a school could not be had. In such cases we have made the best arrangements possible to have the few pupils conveyed elsewhere, that they might have as nearly as possible, equal school privileges.

When we took charge of the schools three years since, we found many of the text books in very bad condition, utterly unfit for use. These have been replaced with new ones, no change in text books having been made, simply replacing the worn out books with new ones. This has annually caused quite a bill for the town to pay. It would seem that for the next few years the expense for books and supplies can be kept very much less, saving probably from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars per year for a few years to come. This will make it easier for the district to raise the extra amount in addition to that required by law to maintain the schools as in the past. We ought to maintain thirty weeks of school. We were compelled to close the winter term at the end of nine weeks for lack of funds.

In a few instances we have called upon the truant officer to enforce the law compelling attendance of pupils. This duty he has always performed in a very courteous manner, being lenient in all cases, making no costs, only requiring that pupils shall attend school as required by law. For the information of all we insert the compulsory attendance law :

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Chapter 93 of the Public Statutes, as Amended by Chapter 61, Session Laws of 1901.

SECTION 14. Every person having the custody and control of a child between the ages of eight and fourteen years, or of a child under the age of sixteen years who cannot read at sight and write legibly simple sentences in the English language, residing in a school district in which a public school is annually taught, shall cause such child to attend the public school all the time such school is in session unless the child shall be excused by the school board of the district because his physical or mental condition is such as to prevent his attendance at school for the period required, or because he was instructed in the English language in a private school approved by the school board for a number of weeks equal to that in which the public school was in session in the common English branches, or, having acquired those branches, in other more advanced studies. Any person who does not comply with the requirements of this section shall be fined ten dollars for the first offense and twenty dollars for every subsequent offense, for the use of the district.

SECT. 15. The state superintendent of public instruction shall have authority to enforce the laws relating to attendance at school and the employment of minors, and, for this purpose, he and any deputy appointed by him shall be vested with the powers given by law to truant officers when authorized by school boards to enforce the laws relating to attendance at school and the employment of children. And the expenses necessarily incurred by the state superintendent in such enforcement shall be paid, as audited and allowed by the governor and council.

SECT. 16. The school board of every district shall cause a copy of the two preceding sections to be sent to every person who they have reason to believe does not comply with the requirements of section fourteen of this chapter.

We have painted the house in division 8; painted outside and inside, papered and whitewashed the house in division 12, making it one of the most attractive school rooms in the town. The houses in divisions 7 and 11 need considerable repairing, while in most of the other houses but small repairs will be necessary for some time.

The accompanying statistical table will give the further information desired.
